

The Art of Reading Well

Chapter 1: Why Reading Matters

Reading is one of the most fundamental skills a person can develop. It opens doors to new ideas, pers

In our modern age of constant distraction, the ability to sit with a text and engage deeply has become l

Chapter 2: Building a Reading Habit

Start small. Even ten minutes of focused reading each day can compound into meaningful progress over

Choose a time that works for you. Some people read best in the morning with their coffee, others prefer